Loses Life in Train Mishap

William J. Norton, 67, of Viking, was killed Wednesday, October 16, when the road grader he was operating was hit by the CNR's Supercontinental at a crossing eight miles east of Wainwright, 130 miles southeast of Edmonton.

Dr. D. Adamson, coroner at Wainwright, has ordered an inquest.
Norton, employed by J. G. Whelan Construction, of Edmonton, was working on a crossing near Greenhills east of Wainwright. He drove his road grader onto the crossing and, because of the motor noise, it is believed he failed to hear the approaching train. The diesel locomotive scattered the grader 150 feet along the track. The train was not damaged.

Funeral services were held from the Viking United Church on October 20th.

MY TRIP TO ENGLAND & WALES

By Mr. Pryce Jones, taken from His Diary

Thursday, July 19th
Travelling up the coast we passed into Cardiganshire. Turning off the main coast road we ran down a narrow country road between overhanging trees. Suddenly we emerged into a lovely little cove with splendid sands. This was Newlyn. Absolutely unspoiled natural beauty. The nearest railway is 12 miles away. It is a little paradise. On to Aberystwyth we drove mile after mile along the seaside until at last we reached Aberystwyth. This is one of the cultural centres of Wales. The National Library of Wales, the University College. Another College is that of Agricultural Science. The town itself is in the centre of beautiful Cardigan Bay; with the Plynlimmon mountains in the background, source of the river Severn. Thursday we left Aberystwyth and made our way along the estuary of Dovey, to Machynlleth. This small town is truly Welsh where scarcely a word of English is spoken. Llewelyn, the last native ruling Prince of Wales lived and died near here in the 13th century, and Edward 1st brought the country under English rule. 120 years later Owen Glendower united North and South Wales again to restore Welsh independence, and chose Machynlleth as his capital and set up a Welsh Parliament.

It was here that it collapsed at the crushing of Glendower's rising. On to Llanemaes road through grand mountain scenery to Carno, and Caerswys to Newtown in Montgomeryshire. At Newtown we spent a pleasant evening in this quiet little town, renewing old acquaintances and exploring familiar spots. Newtown is very proud to have had such a wonderful man as Robert Owen who was the founder of the great Co-operative movement in Newtown. If he could only now see what a vast movement it has grown into.

On passing through the town of Montgomery we could not pass without a glance at this historical place, and viewing the Castle which was built in 1223. Close by is the original Norman fortress where many battles between the English and the Welsh took place. Then on to Welshpool, the largest town in the country and has beautiful surroundings. Powys Castle is situated in its magnificent timbered park where there is a great herd of red deer. This magnificent castle has been the home of the Earls of Powys, and has been inhabited without interruption for over 700 years. It is filled with treasures, works of art, portraits and also contains the priceless relics of Lord Clive of India. This too has to be seen to be appreciated.

Now on to Shrewsbury which completed our tour of two thirds of Wales.

WITH THE District Agriculturist

By J. S. Duncan

Holidays:
By the time this is being read I shall be on my holidays so this column will not appear again until sometime in November. My office will still be open during holidays and any questions which cannot be answered by the staff will be put aside until I get back.

Winter Pigs:
Damp conditions are the greatest hazard in raising winter pigs. Proper ventilation and a bit of extra bedding are two of the main things in keeping pigs dry and healthy. Treating pigs with iron is more important in the winter than in summer. Also supplying proper vitamins either with good alfalfa or with feeding oil is important, both to young pigs and brood sows. For the sows a mineral mixture of salt, bone meal and ground limestone in equal parts should be available to them at all times. Proper use of heat lamps at farrowing time and just after will help to keep the survival rate high.

Livestock Feeding:
Damp will be more straw and poor quality hay fed this winter than there usually is. This means that Vitamin A will be short. The breeding herd should be given a Vitamin supplement if the calf and lamb crop is to be strong and healthy. It may also be necessary to feed a bit of grain to help out the poor quality roughage in maintaining the strength and flesh on cows and ewes.

Soil Testing and Feed Testing:
The Soil and Feed Testing Laboratory at University of Alberta was established to help farmers in the selection of fertilizers and feed samples are available at this office.

WEDDING BELLS

HUTCHISON - MEYER

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, Aug. 23rd at the church of Our Lady's Assumption in Edmonton when Rev. Fr. O'Neill united in marriage Anne Marie, the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Meyer of Irma, and Herbert James, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hutchison of Greenhills.

A pleasant coincidence was the ministrations of Rev. Fr. O'Neill, who officiated at the bride's baptism when Fr. O'Neill was the popular pastor at Viking.

For her wedding, Anne chose ivory satin in princess style, designed and made by her chum at college, Miss Elizabeth Loh, B.Sc. She wore the white illusion tulle veil and Juliet cap worn by her sister, Jenny (Mrs. L. A. Monnier) for her wedding.

Anne carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses with white stephanotis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Meyer chose a daron gown in charcoal grey in princess line with snow white collar, hat and accessories.

Mrs. Hutchison, the groom's mother was charming in a beige and rust suit and rust hat. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mary Lu Meyer, as junior bridesmaid, was her sister's only attendant. She was in a daffodil yellow gown, white Breton collar and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Harry Groves, Wainwright, assisted the groom.
After the ceremony, a dainty buffet luncheon was served at the groom's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sorenson.

Sea Cadets At Last

A general meeting of parents (dads and moms, where were you?) and their sons was held in Irma School Auditorium on Oct. 8 to hear Lieut. Prescott from Edmonton explain the organization of a Sea Cadet Corps. C. O. Herb Snyder and Mr. Wilbraham of Wainwright added further information about the organization.

On October 15, the first meeting was held with about 34 boys present from Irma and Albert district Petty Officers, Ron King and Garry Archibald were able to aid C. O. Snyder along with Moore Helady and Rattray from the Wainwright Corps. We are also very grateful to Ches. Spornitz who is going to be second in command and help our Corps.

Navy League Cadets are: Gordon Fischer, Gordon Darling, George Miller, Bobby Hubman, Bobby Congdon, Douglas Sharkey, Gordon Anquist, Richard Jones, Robert Jones, Larry Archibald, Wayne Larsen, Dennis Hockett, Don Lukens, Douglas Daniels, Dennis Meier, Gary Meier, Stanley Veer.

This will be eliminated the necessity of a few boys having to be taken to Wainwright every Tuesday for Cadets by their parents. Many boys will now have this opportunity to receive some knowledge, discipline and drill pertaining to both navy life and civilian life.

Once necessary!
Sea Cadets every Wednesday at 7:30.

SURPRISE ON NEWLYWEDS

Shaaron Luther League and friends last Sunday evening, staged a successful surprise party on Mr. and Mrs. Erling Nilson, newlyweds of last summer. As the cars came tooting into their marriage and Erling realized the simple ruse Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gulbrua had carried out by coming earlier, ostensibly to pay them a little visit.

After much laughter the group, under the leadership of League president, Mrs. Raasok, sang, "O Happy Home," and "O Perfect Love." Mrs. Erickson read Psalm 121 and led in devotions. Then the evening grew gay with friendly games and contests with Carl Gulbrua as leader. The highlight of the fun was when four divisions of the large group each composed a song and sang it to the honored couple.

Mrs. Raasok presented a lovely rug to Erling and Della from the assembled friends. She said how glad we were to have this young couple in our community. She mentioned the fact that Erling was always willing to take his share in all activities and that we welcomed Della to do so also. Mrs. Raasok echoed the sentiments expressed in the Irma Times previously, that we are grateful to Erling for bringing Della back to Irma. Erling expressed his earnest thanks for the kindness shown them, and Della also graciously added her thanks with the kindly invitation that all these friends would visit them often, but preferably in smaller numbers.

The evening ended around coffee cups and delicious refreshments. Thus, finally, a formal welcome has been given to our newest newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Erling Nilson.

Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened; and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them; and they were judged every man according to their works.

And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire. —Rev. 20:12-15.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON—Political parties are continuing to lay the groundwork for the next provincial election, which will probably be held sometime next summer.

Social Credit became the first party to name a standard-bearer in the new northern riding of Dunvegan. The candidate is Joseph M. Scruggs, Worsley district farmer.

Dunvegan riding covers an area that used to be part of Peace River riding. Peace River was cut in half after years of pleading by Social Credit Member W. F. Gilliland that he had too much territory to cover.

Meanwhile, Liberals have named their first candidate. He is John Mills, who will run for re-election in the Lac Ste. Anne constituency. Mr. Mills has held the seat since the 1955 election.

More Liberal nominating conventions will come after the party holds its leadership convention here in the capital city Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

LOOK FOR increased government spending on scholarships, bursaries and students' allowances in the coming years.

Starting next year, the province is expected to spend around $1,000,000 annually in aid to students, compared with about $400,000 being spent this year. The aim is to ensure that no deserving student in Alberta will lack educational opportunities because of financial difficulty.

The education department and the university have set up a five-man committee to study the new aid program. D. R. Cameron, registrar of the department of education, is the chairman. The committee will make an interim report before the next session of the Legislature, and will continue its studies next year.

Outcome of the study may be establishment of a provincial scholarship board.

AN UPSURGE in oil exploration and development work is expected in the rich Swan Hills area of northern Alberta. Oil companies shelled $5,000,000 last week for rights to five parcels in the Swan Hills.

The Swan Hills area attracted the greatest attention in a government sale of oil and gas rights leases. A single parcel in the region brought $1,350,000 from a team of five oil companies. Another company paid $4,552,500 for four parcels containing 1,280 acres.

The oil and gas rights sale brought the government a total of $10,150,418, to make it the biggest sale in the past year. It pushed to past $750,000,000 the amount the government has received from oil and gas rights since 1947.

GOOD WEATHER this season has meant good progress on the province's $50,000,000 main highway construction program.

Latest reports say contractors have finished 210 miles of grading, 246 miles of stabilized gravel base course work and 240 miles of surfacing. The grading work is 75 per cent complete, base course 88 per cent complete and surfacing 89 per cent complete.

Final seal coating has been applied to 162 miles of highway to complete this phase of the year's program. Highways Minister Gordon Taylor says all work is well ahead of last year, and good weather has been the main factor.

Mr. Taylor announced the government will make an effort to ease winter unemployment by carrying on with as much road work as possible. A $937,725 contract has just been awarded for work on the Macleod Highway in the north, and work will start on the rebuilding of a section of Highway 16 west of Edmonton.

INTEREST LACKING—Two years ago the government set up what was intended to be a "master list" of voters. Registration books were made available in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat. Any voter who took the trouble to register would be certain his name would be on the voters' list for the next election.

The registration is not intended to replace enumeration of voters before every election, but invariably there are complaints from voters who are missed by enumerators. The new scheme

R. A. Emerson who has been appointed Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Chief Predicts a Cold Winter

Chief Walking Eagle, a member of the Stoney Indian tribe in Alberta, says it's going to be a long hard winter. And he's been right in his forecasts more often than he's been wrong. This fall signs are clear, he said. Birds have been going south for weeks. Other birds, mostly sparrows, are hugging the ground in flocks, don't fly off when approached by cars on the highway. Mortality has been high. The Indians say such bird suicide results from premonitions of a hard winter. There are other signs too. Fish in the swift North Saskatchewan are almost all gone, but small creeks and lakes are full. Indians say the Great Spirit has moved the fish to waters where the Indians can catch them during a bad winter. And the stars, they indicate a beginning of a cold cycle. But that's too complicated a sign to explain to white man, says Chief Walking Eagle.

Plaintive Cry

The mother of a teenage student in the State of Washington and head of the department of guidance in the Spokane public schools became so engrossed one day in the omni-present teenage complaint "there's nothing to do" that she came up with the following which is gaining much circulation:

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of teenagers:
"What can we do...?
"Where can we go...?
"I can make some suggestions.
Go home."

"Hang storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Shovel the walk. Scrub the floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job."

"Help the minister, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And when you're through—and not too tired—read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment."

"Your town does not owe you recreational facilities."

"The world does not owe you a living."

"You owe the world something."

"You owe it your time and energy, and your talents so that one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or plain lonely again."

"In plain, simple words, Grow up; quit being a cry-baby; develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man or lady."

"I'm a parent. I'm tired of nursing, protecting, helping, appealing, begging, excusing, tolerating, denying myself needed comforts for your every whim and fancy, just because your selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, and thinking and requests."

—The Yellowknife News.

Pieces of eight, actually Spanish silver dollars, were once the most widely used money in Canada. Ships trading from the Maritimes to the West Indies brought back so many that the coins were once known as "Halifax currency."

placed more of the onus on the voter.

After two years, there are 98 names on the "master list"—68 in Edmonton, 16 in Calgary, 5 in Lethbridge and 5 in Medicine Hat. Said Ray Crevelin, clerk of the legislature: "People just aren't interested."

NORTH EAST CORNER

This lovely fall weather we have been enjoying is worthy of mention. Usually we all grumble about adverse weather so occasionally we should remember to remark on the good.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Neil McMillan and Mrs. Wes Parsons were joint hostesses in the Parson home at a Royal Purple tea. Miss Joyce Cook, accompanied by little Melodie Cowper of Edmonton, spent several days visiting with the Cook family.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oldham and girls were Edmonton visitors during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scheick, Marjory, Arlene and Ron, Mr. and Mrs. George Ford and boys Mr. Fred Younker, George, Frances, Harvey, Lillian and Dorothy all motored to Cold Lake the first of this week. We wonder if the trout were plentiful? Baby Teddy Scheick stayed with his aunt Doris during his parents' absence.

EDMONTON SHOW FEATURES CARCASS JUDGING

One of the outstanding features of the Edmonton Fall Show and Sale is the sheep and swine carcass competition.

Entry of live animals is made for these competitions. All the animals are brought out into the judging ring and judged on the hoof by the exhibitors at the Show. The animals are then tagged and tattooed and sent to the packing plant to be slaughtered.

After the carcasses are properly chilled they are returned to the Exhibition Grounds for display. All the swine carcasses are graded at the packing plant. The lamb carcasses are graded and judged at the pavilion.

Now a complete comparison is made between the placings by the exhibitors and the actual placings according to plant grade. The exhibitors doing the best job in this regard share $42.00 in prize money and the exhibitors who entered the animals for the competition share $139.00 in prize money.

On Wednesday evening, October 29th, a meat show and carcass auction is held in the pavilion. The admission is free and the public is welcome. Tickets are provided those attending which makes them eligible for a draw. The Alberta Sheep and Swine Breeders' Associations provide a sheep and swine carcass which are wrapped and ready for a deep freeze. This is a straight give-away and ticket stubs are drawn and the lucky winners take home free anything from a picnic shoulder to a leg of lamb.

Meat experts go over the carcasses hanging on display and give an educational talk on quality and reasons for various grades. Then the auctioneers sell the 19 swine and 8 lamb carcasses to those in attendance.

This is a wonderful opportunity for any citizen to come to this sale and obtain a carcass or half carcass if lamb or pork for their freezer. At the same time they have the opportunity of gaining some real useful pointers regarding buys and cuts of meat from the experts.

Be sure to attend this show on Wednesday, October 29th at 8 p.m. at the Exhibition Grounds.

Liberals To Choose Alberta Leader

Plans are well advanced for the Liberal Leadership Convention, October 31st and November 1st. Executive members of the Liberal Association of Alberta were told Saturday by Mr. Dale C. Thomson, Chairman of the Convention Organization Committee at a meeting in Red Deer. A total of 1,000 delegates and 750 alternates are eligible to attend. Preliminary surveys indicate a record attendance of well over 1,000.

"This will be one of the most important political meetings in Alberta in many years," Mr. Thomson told the Liberal Executive. The Liberal Party in Alberta is faced with a double responsibility," he said, "a responsibility of choosing a leader capable of forming the next government in Alberta and of drawing up a program to meet the needs and aspirations of Albertans in the years ahead. We have a challenge, too—a challenge to win the confidence of majority of our fellow Albertans. Liberals are well on the way to meet in that responsibility and challenge. Never has there been more interest in our party or more confidence in its role in Alberta's destiny."

Convention plans include full discussion of all major provincial questions. Committees are already carrying out extensive research on all phases of provincial administration in order to present draft statements of Liberal policy for consideration by Convention delegates. Policy resolutions are daily being received from Constituency organizations as they meet to elect delegates.

One of the highlights of the Convention will be the attendance of the National Liberal Leader, the Honourable Lester B. Pearson, who will address the Convention on opening day. Mr. Pearson will be present throughout the Convention to meet and discuss policy with Liberals from all parts of the province.

Last year Canada's federal unemployment insurance fund paid out $135 million more than it took in.

Twenty babies

arrive in one night

Who says there's a recession?
Not the mother pig north of town who believes it's time for all-out production and no foolin'!

She surprised her owner, Sheldon Amy, with a lavish litter of 20 young'uns September 2. (Her first effort last year netted her owner only six porkers.)

Three of the piglets died right-away, leaving 17. Since a mother pig is equipped to handle only a dozen babies, five were taken instead for spoon-feeding, the others falling to Mrs. Amy. Only two of these have survived and they are doing well on special powdered milk.

Mrs. Amy's charges are lively and had to be put in a container high enough to keep them getting out. An old boiler fills the bill.

Last thing we heard the two pampered pigs were out sunning on the farm house steps taking in a little vitamin D. — The Sun, Grenfell, Sask.

Million dollar court house

opened in Saskatoon

A gold key was used to officially open Saskatoon's new, million dollar court house on Wednesday, October 8. Before a crowd of several thousand people, Attorney General R. A. Walker performed the traditional ribbon cutting and the gold key was presented to him by the president of the W. C. Wells Construction Co. Ltd., general contractors for the court house.

The Hon. C. G. Willis, minister of Public Works presided at the opening ceremonies in which Mayor S. L. Buckwold and Mr. J. B.
Wedge, president of Saskatoon and lawyers can use private stairways from the parking lot into offices or the library. The plan of the building provides for judges walking from offices to court rooms without using public corridors and similarly for prisoners being taken from their cells up an elevator and directly into Court.

The decor of the court house is quiet but attractive. Marble dasies along corridor walls give the interior a mild air of opulence.
Wells in court rooms and judges' offices on the top floor are finished with wall-to-wall carpeting.

There are now 19 court houses in Saskatchewan. The old Saskatoon court house, one of the early public buildings in the city, has been sold to an expanding business organization. Opened in 1908, it cost $74,500, including the site.
Asinibol and Estevan were the last two urban centres to build new court houses, in 1929 and 1930 respectively.

Most ambitious clothing drive opens

in Kitchener, Thanksgiving Sunday

The most ambitious used clothing drive ever attempted for Canadian Lutheran World Relief, was launched Thanksgiving Sunday.
The Rev. C. L. Monk of Winnipeg, Executive Secretary of Canadian Lutheran World Relief, will mark the "clothing opening" in his sermon to be preached at St. Peter's and St. Matthew's Lutheran Churches, the latter to be broadcast.

The steering committee includes several laymen and the Rev. Lloyd Wentzlaaf, Pastor Holy Cross Lutheran Church, affiliated with the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, and the Rev. Peter W. H.
Eyd, Pastor of Reformation Church, affiliated with the United Lutheran Church in America, who are president and secretary respectively of the Kitchener-Waterloo Lutheran Ministerial Association, where the idea for the clothing collection originated.

An estimated 175 Lutheran churches in Western Ontario have been invited to participate and this share in the area-wide promotion.

All people of the community are urged to contribute clothing, regardless of religion, inasmuch, Rev. Monk emphasized, as the clothing will be distributed to all people in need, regardless of religion.

Last year Canadian Lutheran World Relief was Canada's largest contributor of used clothing to the 900,000 Arab refugees in Jordan and Syria.

So far in 1958, 122,000 pounds had been shipped to these people.
Rev. Monk said consideration is being given to sending some of the clothing this year to those many people who are fleeing from communist Germany in near-record numbers.

The Lutheran Churches in and around Regina plan a similar area appeal for the week of October 19.
Those in and around Edmonton, for early November.

Pointed questions

Are we so blessed in our abundance and people that we can afford not to resist a record of waste and tragedy? That we can fall to wish there were more and larger ash trays in every home? That we can fail to see that our stoves and heating equipment on which we in a cold climate must depend for seven, even eight months a year are kept in good working order? That rubbish and trash breed fire? That the difference between a 15 and 30 ampere fuse in an already over-worked electrical circuit can be deadly? ... That the 207 children who perished last year—many of them unattended—were more than were lost in the peak years of polio?

GIANT SPUDS

Unfavorable moisture conditions, no doubt, have played havoc with the growth of garden produce this year, and this probably accounts for the fact that this year The Leader is not being besieged with vegetables of outsize proportions.

But this is not the case where potatoes are concerned: moisture conditions seem to have been pretty favorable for them. H. E. East, who resides on the eastern outskirts of Carman, has brought in a sample of the Minota variety which tipped the scales at 3 lbs. 7 oz. It measured 15 inches in girth and 20½ inches in circumference in the lengthwise direction. Mrs. East says they dug several more of equal size from their garden plot.

Clarence Devine, in Carman's south end, has several of similar size, and nicely shaped, of the Cherokee variety.—The Dufferin Leader, Carman, Man.

Consistent flavor needed in milk

A plea for dairy farmers to produce milk with a consistent flavor was made before 26 persons at the Co-op hall in Vibank recently.

Don Guy, sales manager of Silverwood's Regina dairy, said housewives now often switch to powdered milk if fresh milk displeases them at some time.

Mr. Guy said that when the flavor of milk shipped to Regina changed, housewives complained and consumption dropped. The milk was just as nutritious and healthful as ever, but the slightly changed flavor caused many people to drink less of it.

The danger to local dairymen of a changing flavor is that housewives may substitute milk powder for fresh whole milk. Once they have changed, Mr. Guy said, many may not return to buying fresh milk. This will mean a shrinking milk market for dairymen in the local milk shed. A weedy or grassy flavor in milk ultimately could cost a dairymen large sums of money.

IMPERIAL HELPS YOU FEEL SECURE WHEN THEY FLY

For as long as Canadians have flown, Imperial's leadership in aviation fuels and lubricants has helped make flying safer, surer

Canada's earliest airmen depended on Imperial aviation products, in war and in peace. Imperial gasoline powered Canada's first air mail flight, in 1918.

As more modern planes flew, Imperial research provided them with the new fuels they needed. For many years, Imperial was the only Canadian manufacturer of aviation alkylate, an essential ingredient of aviation gasoline.

The special skills and technical knowledge acquired over the years make Imperial today the nation's major supplier of aviation fuels.

These skills and experience pay dividends to the motorist today when premium grades of gasoline are approaching top aviation octane standards.
